Sounds & Sights 2023

By Aimee Bingham Osinski
anbingham@gmail.com

After a one-week bad weather hiatus, Sounds and Sights Chelsea was back last week. It was Thursday evening, my husband was working and there was nothing to make for dinner. My daughter and I headed into Chelsea to see what actually happens during Sounds and Sights, as neither of us has ever been. The line started to wrap around the side for Smokehouse 52 and it smelled amazing. We headed to Palmer Commons to catch the, "How to Chalk series," with Aaron Turek. Before arriving my daughter gleefully accepted a free freeze pop from a friendly man running a booth on the sidewalk. The previous week's weather cancellation was a serious disappointment to my daughter as she wanted to learn to chalk mythical creatures. We arrived in time to find boxes of chalk and clipboards with step-by-step instructions for mermaids, dragons, wizards, and other creatures.

As my daughter worked diligently on a mermaid the band started to play. The Devil Elvis Show began playing Elvis Presley songs much to the enthusiasm of the audience. Elderly, seated on the lawn of Palmer Commons began foot tapping and singing along, some ladies even got up and danced. Children drawing felt the same foot tapping, body moving effect of the music. The act was sponsored by Heydlauff's, and was a crowd-pleaser. After my daughter had her fill of chalking mythical creatures we headed toward the car. We made a few stops by the booths lining the sidewalk and parking lot next to Palmer Commons. We stopped by the Secret Crisis Comics booth to browse. One of the men working the booth asked my daughter her age and made her night by pulling up a pack of Pokemon cards. My daughter heard mention of a magician across the street and begged to go watch for a bit. We headed across Main St. to catch some of John Russell's magic performances.

On our way back we found a photo op spot with accessories including hats, a tiara, sunglasses, boas, and fans. Sounds and Sights was a perfect evening of family fun and entertainment in Chelsea. My daughter and I will definitely be back to enjoy the summer event in Chelsea. Farm to Table 8th Annual Fabulous Feast – Tickets Now on Sale

back to Chelsea, and for 2023, the volunteer planning committee is excited about working with community members from each of the towns, as well as this year's host - Alber Orchard & Cider Mill in Manchester.

"Alber Orchard has welcomed us for the second time," said Laura Wohlgemuth, planning committee member. "This venue is the perfect place to celebrate the Fall harvest season, local farmers, and a wonderful dinner prepared and served by your friends and neighbors. This year we will use the barns and inside seating areas accessible to everyone, so we will be protected rain or shine!"

The planning committee has lined up local chefs to prepare the feast and is pleased to welcome back chefs from Smokehouse 52, Silver Maples, Chelsea Alehouse, and Moveable Feast. New contributors include Lakehouse Bakery, Manchester Market, Smokey Michigan, River Raisin Distillery, Chateaux, and Millie's Coffeehouse.

This year's silent auction features great gifts, services, and gift cards from local businesses. The auction will open on the day of the event, and donations can be made on the link.

Steve Petty, CEO of the 5 Healthy Towns Foundation, sees the event as much more than a dinner.

"Our local farmers markets are our partners in every way – helping families in our communities to eat better and connect with each other – two important elements of the Foundation's mission. Our farmers markets play an essential role in the five healthy towns to support greater access to fresh, local foods at affordable prices."

2023-2024 Season

The 33rd season begins with the return of "Diva Royale", written and directed by Jeff Daniels

From: Katie Hubbard

The Purple Rose Theatre Company (PRTC) has selected a hilarious lineup of plays for its 33rd season, featuring two world premieres and a well-loved revival. PRTC Founder and Artistic Director, Jeff Daniels, kicks off the season with a revival of his 2018 smash hit "Diva Royale". Revised a bit to reflect the times, Daniels puts on his director's hat for the first time at PRTC since 1998. The original 2018 principal cast will return. Michigan's own David MacGregor ("Sherlock Holmes" series and "Vino Veritas") returns with the world premiere of, "The Antichrist Cometh" in Spring 2024. Veteran Purple Rose playwright Carey Crim ("Morning After Grace" and "Wake") rounds out the 2023-2024 season with the world premiere comedy "What Springs Forth".
