STOLEN AND RECOVERED: VECTOR 6 IN 1 PORTABLE POWER, EVER-BUILT 100 FT CLOTHESLINE
SUSPECT: YOUNGER, TALLER, SLIM, B/M WITH DREADLOCKS WEARING A BLUE HOODIE BLACK PANTS
SUMMARY:
On the above time and date, Officers responded to Home Depot regarding a retail fraud. Upon arrival, the Officers met with loss prevention agent who reports he observed the listed suspect enter through the main doors. The suspect took a shopping cart to the hardware section then selected the listed portable power pack. The suspect went to the outside garden area then went to isle 13 and selected the listed clothesline. The suspect went back to the garden section where he removed the battery pack from the packaging then tied the clothesline around the handle. The suspect climbed up several shelves then began lowering the battery pack over the perimeter fence using the clothesline. They confronted the suspect and attempted to direct him to the loss prevention office. The suspect dropped the stolen items then ran towards the rear of the garden area where he climbed perimeter fence and jumped to the other side. The suspect ran away in an unknown direction. They recovered all merchandise. Loss prevention was advised to drop off their report to the APPD when completed. Officers checked the area but did not locate the suspect. Loss prevention was provided with a report number.

FRAUD - IDENTITY THEFT

Date: 1/24/2024

Location: APPD, ALLEN PARK, MI

Time: N/A

2024-724
Fraud - Identity Theft
1-24-24
Occurred: Beginning of December (Unknown)
Information:
A victim came to the APPD lobby to make an identity theft report. He advised me that he received a letter from U-Haul Storage Of Noblesville (Indiana) advising him that he is overdue on his storage unit #0203 rental now totaling $268.90 after a $15.00 late fee was added. The payment was due on 1-12-24. He called and advised the U-Haul facility that he never acquired a storage unit with them. The U-Haul employee advised him that a storage rental was acquired through the Internet in his name and had a secondary person on the rental. The U-Haul employee advised him that he doesn't have to worry about the unit. The lock would be cut off and it's content will be auctioned off. He believes he knows the person who rented the unit in his name without his knowledge, nor his permission. He said that the suspect is now in the Livingston MI County Jail for unemployment fraud since just after Christmas. He wanted the incident documented, but he does not wish to pursue charges. The U-Haul late notice was placed in the DB box.

Location: 3163 Fairlane Dr (Home Depot)
Victim: Home Depot
Informational: (Lose prevention)
Details:
On 01-28-2024 an Officer was dispatched by DCD to 3163 Fairlane Dr for a retail fraud complaint. Upon arrival the Officer spoke (Lose prevention). They informed the Officer that the suspect was being detained in the security office for retail fraud. He admitted to purchasing a water heater several minutes earlier, then returning without the previous item. Retrieved another water heater passing all registers and points of purchase exiting the store without paying. He further stated that he returned to the store and attempted to return the stolen item for profit $949.00. He was detained by security and was ticketed by APPD for retail fraud and released. Home Depot has video to provide to the DB unit.

Have you heard about the Allen Park High School's One Book, One School program? The Allen Park Public Library is working with the AP High School media specialist, Melissa Lambert, to make this a One Book, One School, One Community event. Every student in the high school has received a free copy of the book, The Last Cuentista by Donna Barba Higuera. The author will be coming to town to give a free talk to the community on Monday, February 26th from 6-8 PM at the Center for the Arts building. The following day she will be presenting to all the high school students before returning home. The library is helping to plan, promote, and work the event on the 26th. We are giving away 100 free copies of the book, provided by Melissa, to the community as well as taking registration for the event. Come join this wonderful event!

ALLEN PARK ATHLETICS

ON THE SIDELINE: SUPER BOWL, YAWNING, TAYLOR SWIFT AND GARBAGE

By Don Richter
drichter101@comcast.net

I hate to say it, but it was garbage.

What was garbage, you ask?

No, not this column, though I'm sure some would argue that claim.

No, not this winter weather. To the contrary, this winter weather has been wonderful. I know, I know, I'm saying that quietly, I don't want Mother Nature to hear either.

So what was garbage?

Sadly, the garbage I speak of was last Sunday's Super Bowl LVIII. I know, I'm an old, fuddy-duddy, but last Sunday's big game was just so — AVERAGE.

It was so BLAH.

It was so PEDESTRIAN.

It was so TYPICAL of the NFL this season.

To me, in my humble opinion, the NFL today is a subpar product. And football is my favorite sport. It's difficult for me to say such a thing.

Don't get me wrong, I was absolutely caught up in the hoopla surrounding this year's Detroit Lions team. Maybe that's why this season's Super Bowl seemed so anticlimactic. This supposedly was the year the Lions were finally going to play in the Super Bowl, right?

Right?

Anybody?

Right?

I sure thought so.

I believe this season's Detroit team was better than both the San Francisco 49ers and the Kansas City Chiefs, the two teams in this year's Super Bowl. Though the 49ers rallied to beat the Lions in the NFC Championship (one win away from the Super Bowl), I still believe Detroit was the best squad in the NFL at the end of this season. Plus, the Lions defeated the Chiefs in the first game of the year, so I'm confident Detroit could've done it again in this season's Super Bowl.

But alas, none of that happened of course.

After the Lions lost in the NFC title game, I vowed I wouldn't watch the Super Bowl. Of course, I caved and tuned in. I should've listened to my initial instinct.

From Reba McEntire's very good, but not soul-stirring, National Anthem to Usher's very good, but not electrifying, halftime show, I wasn't moved by either performer's effort.

To Taylor Swift in the booth shots — need I say more? I actually like her and admire her success and skill, but enough is enough. Please NFL, enough. Thank you.

And the Super Bowl commercials? What once used to be such a fun, anticipated, talk-about-them-at-work-the-following-day-type event, was so, how should I say this — garbage — this season. Seriously, there was not one Super Bowl commercial this year I thought was even remotely funny, creative, unique or memorable. A total yawn fest. And that's sad. Are there no talented and imaginative people left in TV commercial land? What a disappointment.

The broadcasters in the booth weren't much better. Both gentlemen should be put out to pasture. I was put to sleep listening to both of them aimlessly droning on in their monotone, bored-sounding calling of the game. They weren't awful, just not Super Bowl worthy. The only bright spot for me broadcast-wise was listening to and watching the best sideline reporter in the game today, Tracy Wolfson. She's old-school good, professional, prepared and, ahem, if I do say so myself, easy on the eyes. Hubba, hubba.

As for the play on the field?

Not bad. But for a Super Bowl, I expected better. To me, the whole vibe and feel of the game felt like a Week Nine, Thursday Night game. Nothing special, nothing worthwhile, just a regular season Week Nine contest. I didn't feel any real excitement or tenseness normally associated with a Super Bowl game. It was so ho-hum.

Maybe I felt unimpressed with this past Sunday's Super Bowl because I'm older and have watched so many big games over the years. But, I don't know, football is football and a great game no matter when it's played is a sight to see and feel. And this year's Super Bowl was none of that to me.

Get off my lawn.

I'm old and cranky.

My back hurts.

My knees hurt.

And this season's Super Bowl broadcast/game was trash.

And it was also without my beloved Detroit Lions.

What garbage...

FAQs

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS
North Branch of Ecorse Creek Drain

Why did I receive this letter?
Under the leadership of Wayne County Executive Warren C. Evans, the Wayne County Drain Commissioner received a $10 million grant to perform work on the North Branch of Ecorse Creek Drain. You received this notice because you own property along the Drain. Work will be performed on the Drain, which will take place on or near your property.

What is the North Branch of Ecorse Creek Drain?
The North Branch of Ecorse Creek Drain is a county drain under the jurisdiction of the Wayne County Drain Commissioner. It was established as a county drain in 1861. The Drain is 16.3 miles long.

What is a county drain?
A drain is infrastructure that is used to convey or hold stormwater or rain. It can include things such as:

- Storm sewers or pipes
- Ditches or open drains
- Detention ponds
- Rivers, streams, creeks, and/or wetlands

Wayne County has easement rights on all properties where the Drain is located to perform work.

Will the work impact my sanitary sewer?
No. The North Branch of Ecorse Creek Drain carries stormwater. It does not carry sanitary waste and does not have connections to homes for sanitary sewer.

What work is being done?
Work will include basic maintenance activities that may include removing trees, sediment, and debris. The work will take place within the Drain and along the edge of the Drain. Some locations of the Drain may require stabilizing eroding or damaged drain banks.

What do I need to do?
We need to hear from you! Because we are performing work on or near your property it is important that you contact us. If you have or think you may have items/structures (shed, house, fence, etc.) within 30 feet of the Drain, we need to hear from you as soon as possible!

How can I get more information?
Email info@NBecorseCreek.com or call (313) 241-0704. You can also visit the project website at: www.nbecd.com.

Our Next Sale

By: Jim Jacek

The Allen Park Chamber member feature is Koreen Brown with Our Next Sale. If you are moving, downsizing your home, or need to clear out a house after the death of a loved one, give Koreen a call at (313) 409-5119. They can put together an estate sale for you, so that you can get other things done. They can remove furniture, yard waste, appliances, hot tubs, mattresses, garbage, and also do foreclosure clean outs.
